PHASE 6 OF OPENING

Rotarians, based on CDC guidelines President Dave is now open for business

To little man in my head, actually I've been open for business this whole quarantine thing. Not only do I ensure that news reaches you loyal readers in paper form everyday (except Tuesday and Saturday) but also find time to run by DPG's home on a regular basis, disinfect with lagers daily and have a rotation of dress and casual jammies to lounge or work in. Life is good. Only 6 weeks until year of Handy.

Last time at the Beverly Rotary Club...

Zoom Meeting Called to Order:
12:17
by President Dave

Pledge was recited by all present in silence

Lovely Rendition of James Taylor's "Close Your Eyes" performed by Matt Piaker on the 12-string

Guests:
Mayor Cahill, Priscilla Douglas, and the Virtual Countessa

Rachel Hand gave the Invocation with thought-provoking self-care questions

Birthdays:
Rachel Hand (5/11); Jack Good (5/12); Mike O'Brien (5/14); I dozed off for someone else on 5/14

Guest Speaker: Mayor Cahill

Gave a great update on Beverly's battle with COVID-19

Mayor Cahill is not confident in the reported numbers because there is not enough testing to feel real confident in them;

Biggest Problem area has been congregate living facilities; Care-One & Oceanview Assisted Living cited as examples

505 Positive Tests
68 Deaths: 12 from the community and 46 from assisted living facilities

He feels that the number of deaths is undercounted

Testing is the big piece to re-opening and staying open

City is working hard to help business community reopen safely

Q&A with Mayor Cahill
Sue Gabriel commended the mayor for his approach and messaging throughout this pandemic

In response, Mayor Cahill commended the state leadership and the Beverly City Council as well as other local mayors who he speaks to daily and other Greater Boston mayors who he speaks to 3x per week

Brother Ed asked Mayor Cahill to speak about Beverly's approach in the supermarkets; Beverly was a leader in implementing these policies

Derek Maxfield asked about how Beverly's plan will compare to the State's plan; some issues we need to follow state orders while others give the city some flexibility; a case-by-case situation

Eric asked about the implications on the budget; Mayor is hoping to get local aid number by the end of May; wants the City to be able to pass an entire budget as opposed to one for just July; City is planning for 15% cut in state aid; City planning for significant cuts to excise taxes collected, meals taxes collected, and building permit fees; wants to avoid layoffs

Peter Hersee asked about effect on real estate taxes; plan on tax increases

The Scribe asked about re-opening of the schools; preliminary talks so far; nothing figured out; discussions of various plans; extra classrooms, staggered days, etc.

Rachel Hand discussed homelessness and evictions

Work on the 3 intersections (Henry's, by Dr. Beckman's office, and BG&T) remains on track to start construction by end of June
