Last Weeks Speaker

Glenn Mangurian was our speaker last week, Glenn is an author and motivational speaker who spoke of his power, and yours, despite being confined to a wheelchair is overcoming these struggles and stigmas. He penned a paper for the Harvard Business Review which was a highlight of his bucket list things to do. The paper was sent to you loyal readers earlier this week so please make sure to read it. His positive outlook is inspiring as he looks forward to each new day since the alternative is grim. He strives to be more than "The Guy In The Wheelchair" at any event. His humor and positive attitude tries to make people forget he is disabled but otherwise engaging, happy and productive.

What to do today?

The Bruins season starts today, The Joker in all its dark weirdness opens, and The Salem parade is tonight as well. So many things so little time. Take a page from clone a person and make multiple copies to spread yourself around.

MONSTER EDITOR!
 CITY FLEES IN TERROR!

ALL NEW THRILLS! SHOCK! SUSPENSE!

REVENGE OF THE NEWSPAPERMAN

starring DAVE OLSON • MARSHALL (JUDGE) HANDLY • DR. GILL

WITH A CAST OF HUNDREDS OF KOOL-AID DRINKING MEMBERS WHO WILL SUCK YOUR BRAINS DRY OF COMMON SENSE & REASON.

As we enter the Halloween season we take a look at horror movies we would like to see. You know around these parts is a sick fascination with Halloween, Occult and the related Weirdness that abounds.

We start off the month with the classic Sci-Fi thriller "Revenge of The Newspaperman". A tale of suspense and horror as a small town girl gets caught up in the twisted life of a newspaperman who commits editorial mayhem by switching the fonts with old style metal letters. The public is aghast at the confusion that the letterpress starts as people are smothered in printers ink and tossed away like yesterdays edition.

You'll scream you'll cry as you try to avoid the cutting block in the collating room! If there is one movie to see this fall, make it "Revenge of the Newspaperman", you'll be sorry you did!

Guest Speaker:

- Glenn Mangurian
Glenn has over four decades of experience consulting to business executives in North America and Europe. In May 2001 Glenn suffered spontaneous disk rupture and an injury to his spinal cord resulting in paralysis of his lower body. Undeterred by his injury, Glenn has remained active in the community.
Spoke about being Glenn 2.0 and referred to his life post-injury as his second life. He is consistently asked why he is always so positive and his response is, "I've looked at the alternative and I don't like it". He has built a second life full of purpose and possibilities and feels he is standing taller than ever. He spoke about his experience learning about the power of a smile. He feels he is the living example that we are capable of doing things we don't think we can do. His advice is to create something each day that you can look forward to! It doesn't have to be big. But use every day to create purpose and joy in your life.

Glenn has a column and if you are interested in receiving emails, contact Glenn or Jo Broderick.

Raffle Winner: Lauren Belmonte - no luck.

Fall Garden Planting

Calling all green thumbs to come and help us rip up the old plants and put in some new fresh mums to make us transition to the fall. We will be at the garden on Tuesday the 8th starting around 4:30. We need to clean up first then put in the new plants before it gets dark and twisted. No experience needed just a desire to do some planting at our award winning garden. If you can help please bring gloves, digging tools, cutting tools, rakes, or whatever you need to do to be a champion gardener. Let Moiph know if you can help at moiph@comcast.net. If you can't I plan on coming back in the next life as a squirrel and ruin your life with constant nut cracking at all hours. Plus I'll eat your wires without fear of electrocution. Come out and help us do some planting.
