SEPARATED AT BIRTH?

From time to time we spot a Rotarian that reminds us of something else. Not necessarily better, just something else. Here are a few from last week, you be the judge.

At top Louisa was channeling her inner life model as James McNeil Whistler's "Arrangement in Grey and Black" NOT Whistler's Mother, or Mona Lisa, or Girl with Pearl earring as mentioned by members. At bottom more in the vein of pop culture we have Matt Blanchard on some fathers day socks with his doppelganger Ralphie from Christmas Story. I don't know about you but my head is blown, Pop, see there it goes down the drain.

Brian Murphy had some very high and tight shorts which led to a wonderful view!

What is everyone grateful for - Rotarians are happy about all the support we receive from each other.

Speaker

Kim Paratore from Grateful Friends: Grateful Friends Was founded in 2015, the two founders both suffered from cancer and during this difficult time they saw a lot of people who also struggled with this disease and they needed more help than them. So they created Grateful Friends to assist people during their struggle with Cancer.

Grateful Friends assists people with the finances, paying utility bills, car payments, rent, and any other financial obligation the cancer patient may be struggling with. They also provide that friendly and caring touch of sending baskets filled with essentials that the patients can use during their care.

If you are interested in helping you can donate supplies and or cash to Grateful friends, they are always accepting any help.

Raffle ticket: Peter Hersee, no winner
No joker!

Meeting adjourned at 1:25pm
Submitted by Kyle Marsh

Speaker Kim Paratore with sample gift basket for cancer patients. What a terrific speaker and such a powerful message of hope for those suffering from cancer.
