ONLY A FEW WEEKS AWAY FROM PLEASURE

We will have our next big thing on Friday March 13. We will be entertained by Howl at The Moon a national performing troupe that will get you out of your seats to dance and get jiggy wit it, to quote Will Smith. One of the major benefactors will be the Beverly Library which is looking to upgrade it's teen center and make it more attractive to you's today. At this point have you bought a ticket? Bought a group of ten? Donated some goodies from your extensive collection? You can do any or all of these to make this a great event. For auction items Jackie and Kim are looking for choice goods, services or some other great thing you can donate (or get someone to donate). Only thing stopping you is the ask. With event a few weeks away we need to step up our game and get those items in. Looking for Live as well as silent items. Tickets can be purchased at www.rotaryduelingpianos.com as well as ads, and toe nail fungus if you like. This is our big fund raiser folks let's lets put on that Rotary swing and get this going. If we haven't mentioned yet there will be dancing, dancing and more dancing. Ice for sore hips will be available.

WORLD'S MOST INTERESTING PREZ! President Dave weighs in on Coronavirus pandemic.

I'm not a doctor, but don't you get Vaccinated with a trace amount of a virus to make you immune? Ex. Measles, Rickets, etc. I've started a health regimen that calls me to drink 2 bottles of Corona Extra daily to build up anti-bodies and keep my healthy physique intake. So far I've been able to ward off any signs of Coronavirus, so I say "stay thirsty my friend, it can save your life"

Please consult your bartender if you show any signs of a virus.

Speaker

This week's guest speaker was none other than incoming president Marshall Handley. Marshall talked about SCUBA diving.

He gave us a brief history of scuba diving starting in 1964 when he helped Jaques Cousteau and Jethro Tull invent the aqualung. He gave us a show and tell history of the equipment and how it has evolved. He also scared us with stories of shark bites, the bends and pneumo thoraxes (aka exploding lungs).

Marshall also brought in his own, personal heckler, Pauly D.

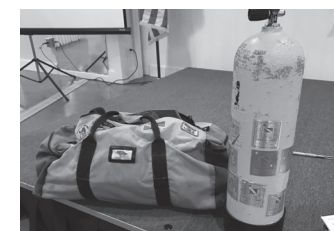

Raffle Winner

The underwater world of speaker Marshal

Soon to be President Marshal Handly gave us a glimpse into the underwater world of aquatic life in and around Beverly waters as well as around the world. Firstly a medical lesson in the dangers of scuba diving and simple methods to avoid danger, which rule one was don't be stupid or panic. Tales off the waters of the Aegean, gathering antiquities from Jim Davies childhood and chance meetings with Jacques and Phillipe Cousteau almost rivalled the girlish squeal of Paul Delorenzo as the headed out to fertile grounds to gather Lobster or Scallops which we haven't been invited. Delightful talk.

Aquaman Rebuttal

WHO IS THIS MERE MORTAL who fouls our waters with his motorcraft, and his blatant disregard for my children who reside on ocean floor. I will hunt at thee to thwart this invasion of my watery lair beneath the surface people homes. How would you like if I came to surface and took at my leisure the creatures of your comfort, I believe you call dogs and cats. My trident will strike them down with great vengeance, I will swear to Poseiden to avenge!
- Aquaman
P.S. Ladies like my abs? Yummy!

I'm so overweight I have diabetes and need to lose weight - Ursula

I'm just a clownfish and live in warm waters so I don't care -
