Dear Matt.

What does buy low sell high mean? -Ted on Tozier Road

Dear Ted.

Street slang, chomp down on edibles if you feeling low or sluggish. At least you'll laugh like a jackal.

Incoming Olson looks to save Piaker from a full year of Presidency!

Today marks the 75th anniversary of the D-Day landings in France which helped to accelerate the end of War in Europe. You could joke if it didn't work we might be eating sauerkraut and wiener schnitzel (which isn't bad anyway) for lunch today. Our soldiers bravery allows us to live free today including the wide berth taken by this publication. Nearly 10,000 soldiers died in the battle over the course of the weeks after the landing. Our members who have served our country are the continuing generation of soldiers who put their lives on the line. We thank them for being our best: Pat Agostino, Joe Bubriski, Jim Davies, Don Fournier, Peter Hersee, Rich Jones, Don Moran, Dr Gil Norwood, Dr. Doug Peterson and Bill Scanlon.

Last Weeks Speakers

Retired Marine Warrant Officer Tom Smith(also decent softball player for Danvers) Talia Gomez squad leader, President Matt and Sydney Garvey, were our speakers last week who dispelled notions of JROTC as a military group. With 100+ members at the high school they are a group that focusing on building confidence, organization and academic skills. Something any company or organization would appreciate. Plus Talia was going to prom last week so she gave a talk then danced up a storm at night.

ALL OVER

Aku Artworld

Did you know our Aku, master of the photoshop program took best in show for his artwork pictured at left. Who knew? We would have had him do Sprockets covers weeks ago if we knew he had talent in photoshop. Congrats Aku keep rocking the art, it sure beats having a regular job to take up your life.
