ADVICE FROM CHUBBBS

Any advice on how to be the best President ever?

Matt, Rotary is much like golf, meetings are for show, fundraising is where you make the dough. Don't be like me and get cut down in the prime of your career, focus on the game and go to your happy place

- Chubbs

I thought you were Apollo Creed?

Reids Ride

Thanks to all and the club who helped support our team. Jackie was 3rd in overall fundraising and Beverly Rotary was in top 10. Not too shabby. Matt Blanchard and Stephanie rode and there not even members, fast track them to membership. Legs that could crack walnuts is our team motto and mantra!

We were able to capture the exact moment that President Matt called to order his first meeting. See the joy, feel the excitement. Save this image and see if it changes over the course of the next 50 weeks

Financial Advice

MONEY MATT-ers

Dear Matt,
I just inherited a good sum of money from my Uncle Remus. What should I do with that new cash? Please don't tell my wife. who has her own ideas.
– Money bags on Magnolia Street.

Dear Money Bags,
Your letter reminds me of the 6th hole at Thompson, the greens were vast and I just needed to two putt to make par., alas I short putted and sadly came away with a bogey. As to your wife, does she golf? I hope this helps, may your drives always be true – Matt

Essex River Cruise

Not exactly love, but it sure is swell. Captain Larry is again poised to take us on a memorable trip up the Essex River. Date TBD and right now we are letting the green heads have their way with tourists before the locals show up in August. Stay tuned. Did you know Isaac is personal friend of Dr. Jamie's Family? I need a drink.

Scholarship + 1

We welcomed Maeve Dineen who wasn't able to attend the meeting a few weeks ago. A lovely young woman who is heading off to University of Maine studying engineering, where more than likely she'll spend some time at Alford Arena getting wild with the Maine Black Bear fans, of course this is after doing all her homework and studies. Pictured with Lori Ciancuilli and newly minted President Matt Piaker who is all smiles.

Friends Forever (at least we hope)

Once again we we're treated to some of the finest young people from Northern Ireland, specifically Belfast. Mark and Gary gave a great talk about their life and experiences. Mind you this was their first public speaking EVER, and they did a brilliant job in their lingo. Your editor was fortunate enough to sit with them and have a few cracs (their lingo). Let's hope they are able to increase the circle of understanding and tolerance in their home town.

Friends Forever

Marshall Bradstreet spoke briefly about Friend From International – a group of young boys and girls from Ireland came together from different backgrounds – both Protestant and Catholic – working together to do skill building, and to help the young folks do community projects to improve the area. This is a young leadership program to help bridge different communities while also teaching the value of investment in community service. The 14 kids were involved in re-painting a building that was in desperate need of improvement. They also participated at a food pantry in New Hampshire. The kids later spoke and shared how surprised they were as to how easy it was to not necessarily know who was which religion. Given that the community had such a division (there is a "Peace Wall" that has divided their community for decades which has contributed to the separation of Protestants and Catholics in their own community), they were surprised how easy it was to get to know and partner with someone on the other side of the wall. Their stories included some that were in orphanages, some that just from good families, but all of them had a very keen interest in pursuing this leadership program and are very happy to be involved.

Raffle

Couldn't remember who had the lucky ticket, but I am confident that nobody won.

Meeting adjourned at 1:30pm.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL!!!

JUST WHEN YOU THOUGHT IT WAS SAFE TO GO TO LYNCH PARK

Back again with teeth chattering terror (real and false) the annual Ice cream Social and Homecoming events at Lynch Park. Details to come from Rick Mooney when he gets new life preservers. Always a fun time for Rotarians serving ice cream to the seniors who will steam roll anyone in their way in the pursuit of ice cream.
