Queen for a day

Sandy Hine our beloved server was honored last week for service to our club for over 15 years. She had the honor of a double freep by doing the pledge and sung to by moiph, which maybe wasn't such a treat. Always a brilliant smile and happy face. Come back and sample more fine food from time to time.

For those who didn't drive by to answer the mystery of what Diane's statue would look like, we bring the majesty of her! A mash up of the scales of justice and a cake NOT a piece of swiss cheese. Broaden your minds friends to the glory of art.

The Swierczynski Swizzle Schtick

Welcome, Pilgrim. Pull up a stool barside, while I exercise some presidential mixology. Today's non-prudent stroll through jurisprudence and barrister bartending is my own twist on an old favorite that I call a BRANDEIS ALEXANDER. Named after Justice Louis from Louisville, I pivot from the well know trio of 1.5 ounces for cognac; 1 ounce dark crème de cacao; and 1 ounce of cream. While this formula goes down the hatch as easy as a Brandeis Brief, my own variation goes back to the original recipe which started 1.5 ounces of gin instead of cognac. Yup, you heard correctly. Try it. No need to tell anyone your preference because Louis was big on the right to privacy. And remember: when grating the nutmeg garnish, pound vigorously as if you're breaking up a monopoly. Did you know Brandeis coined the phrase "Other People's Money"? Now you do. Till we meet again, cheers!
